COMMUNITY HEALTH AND WELLBEING WORKER – NEWLYN Two posts of 24.37 hours each per week (£16,765 pa)

This is an exciting opportunity to work in collaboration with organisations across the voluntary and health sectors in helping address the rising inequities in health and social care and identifying unmet need in the community.

We are seeking someone with a level of self-confidence and personal robustness to work with the community and build long-term trusted relationships with householders with the aim of improving the health and wellbeing of each of the individuals you work with.

The successful postholder needs to be a good listener with knowledge or lived experience of the barriers people in the community are facing, and able to identify and advocate for the needs of the individual.

Ideally, someone who community-based experience providing advocacy and support, with strong interpersonal skills, and adept at relationship building.

Good computer skills and completion of an enhanced DBS are essential.

A comprehensive induction and training programme will be provided, as well as ongoing on the job professional development.

Closing date 15th January 2025 at 5pm
Interviews to be held w/c 20 January 2025
